Teacher and Librarian Read-Aloud Guide

Best for: Ages 3–6, preschool to early primary.

Read-aloud time: 5–8 minutes.

Themes: emotional literacy, body feelings, naming feelings, breathing, asking for what you need.

Materials: the book, a soft toy, a red ball, Feeling Steps cards, certificate, coloring page.

Before reading

Ask one gentle question. Children may answer aloud, point, or simply think.

- What can a big feeling feel like inside your body?
- Have you ever felt foggy, rainy, thundery, or warm-red inside?
- What can help when many feelings arrive at once?

During reading

Pause at these story moments.

- When Yok arrives at the classroom door: What might Yok be feeling in her body?
- When the teacher names nervous: How does naming the feeling help Yok?
- When Yok feels rainy watching Tom build: What feeling is visiting Yok?
- When Yok wants to bounce the ball: What does angry feel like for Yok?
- When all the feelings mix together: What does Yok need?

After reading

Choose one quick follow-up.

1. Name it: Choose a feeling word: nervous, sad, angry, embarrassed, or calm.
2. Breathe: Take one slow dragon breath together.
3. Ask: Practice saying, “I need a quiet minute” or “Can I have help?”
4. Draw it: Draw today’s inside weather: fog, rain, thunder, warmth, or sunshine.

Parent Conversation Card

After the Story: Talk About Big Feelings

Ask gently

1. What feeling felt foggy to Yok?
2. What feeling felt rainy?
3. What feeling felt like thunder?
4. What happened when Yok named her feelings one at a time?
5. What could you ask for when a feeling feels too big?

Practice together

Take turns saying one big-feeling sentence. Keep it gentle and specific.

- | | |
|-------------------|--------------------------|
| ▪ I feel nervous. | ▪ I feel embarrassed. |
| ▪ I feel sad. | ▪ I need a quiet minute. |
| ▪ I feel angry. | ▪ I can ask for help. |

Home activity: Make a feelings-weather check-in. Ask: “What is the weather inside right now?” Children can answer with a word, a drawing, a point, or a color. Then choose one next step: breathe, cuddle, move, talk, or rest.

Big Feeling Steps Practice Cards

Cut out the cards. Practice one feeling step at a time.

Children can point to a card when words feel too big.

Name it: nervous.

Name it: sad.

Name it: angry.

Name it: embarrassed.

Look for a little sunshine.

Hold something safe.

Take one slow dragon breath.

Ask for what you need.

Choose one small next step.

Adult tip: The goal is not to push feelings away. Help children notice the body feeling, name it without shame, slow the body, and ask for one helpful next step.

Feelings Weather Certificate

This certificate is awarded to for naming a big feeling today.

Big feeling steps I tried:

- ☐ I named a feeling. ☐ I took a slow breath.
- ☐ I asked for what I needed. ☐ I took a quiet minute.
- ☐ I chose one small helpful step.
