Teacher and Librarian Read-Aloud Guide

Best for: Ages 3–6, preschool to early primary.

Read-aloud time: 5–8 minutes.

Themes: welcoming others, empathy, friendship, gentle invitations, belonging.

Materials: the book, a ball or soft toy, Welcome Steps cards, certificate, coloring page.

Before reading

Ask one gentle question. Children may answer aloud, point, or simply think.

- Have you ever been new somewhere?
- What might help someone who is standing apart?
- What can a kind welcome look like if someone feels shy?

During reading

Pause at these story moments.

- When Nico stands by the fence: What do you notice about Nico's body and face?
- When Yok remembers standing far away: How does Yok's memory help her understand Nico?
- When Yok rolls the ball slowly: Why is going slowly a kind choice?
- When the circle opens wide: What did Tom and Abby do to help welcome Nico?

After reading

Choose one quick follow-up.

1. Notice it: Look at a picture and find who might feel new or unsure.
2. Show it: Practice a small wave or gentle smile.
3. Say it: Practice: "Want to roll it with us? We can go slow."
4. Try it: Make a circle with room for one more child or toy.

Parent Conversation Card

After the Story: Talk About Welcoming One More

Ask gently

1. How did Yok know Nico might feel nervous?
2. Why did Yok roll the ball slowly instead of rushing?
3. What did Tom and Abby do to make room?
4. What helped Nico join the game little by little?
5. How could you welcome someone new this week?

Practice together

Take turns saying one gentle welcome. A smile, wave, or point can count too.

- Hi. I'm Nderlinehspace0.45in.
- Want to join us?
- We can go slow.
- There is room here.
- Would you like a turn?
- You can watch first.

Home activity: Use a ball, block, or stuffed animal. Make a small circle and practice adding one more person or toy. Say, "There is room for one more."

Welcome Steps Practice Cards

Cut out the cards. Use them to practice a gentle welcome.

Children may point to a card instead of speaking. That still counts as a kind step.

Notice

Look for someone standing apart.

Go gently

Smile, wave, or roll the ball slowly.

Invite

Make room and ask kindly.

Hi. I'm Yok.

Start with a small hello.

You can watch first.

Waiting can be welcoming.

There is room.

Open the circle wide.

Want a turn?

Offer, then wait.

We can go slow.

Gentle is kind.

Welcome one more.

Friendship can grow.

Adult tip: Welcoming does not have to be loud. Model one gentle option, then let the child choose: smile, wave, roll, invite, or make room.

Welcome Helper Certificate
