Read-Aloud Guide

Best for: Ages 3–6

Read-aloud: 5–8 min.

Theme: making choices, waiting, unfamiliar food, asking for small changes, movement breaks, and restaurant confidence.

Approach: Let the story lead. Pause for body clues, choices, and small moments of agency rather than turning the reading into a lesson.

Before reading

- Why can too many choices feel hard?
- What can help while we wait for food?
- Is it okay to ask for a small change to a meal?

During reading

- When the grown-up offers only two choices: Why do two choices feel easier than a whole menu?
- When Yok waits for the noodles: What does she do to make waiting manageable?
- When Yok sees green herbs: How does asking for them on the side help her keep trying?
- When Yok takes a movement break: Why can moving help the body reset?

After reading

1. Practice: I would like...
2. Practice: Can I have this on the side?
3. Practice: May I take a little break?
4. Choose one food you would feel comfortable ordering.

Parent Conversation Card

Ask gently

1. What made the menu feel difficult at first?
2. How did the grown-up reduce the choice without choosing for Yok?
3. What did Yok learn about tasting unfamiliar food?
4. How did the movement break help dinner go better?

Grown-up note: Restaurants combine waiting, noise, smells, choices, unfamiliar food, and sitting still. Reducing choices, allowing movement breaks, and permitting small food adjustments can make the experience more manageable.

Tiny everyday habit: Choose one phrase or strategy from the story and practice it once during a calm moment this week. It is easier to use a skill under stress after it has been rehearsed when things are going well.

Practice Cards

Cut out the cards. Children may say, point, act, or match the phrase.

I WOULD LIKE...

Practice ordering.

TWO CHOICES

Make decisions smaller.

PLEASE

Use a polite request.

ON THE SIDE, PLEASE

A small adjustment can help.

I CAN TRY A BITE

Trying is not the same as liking.

I DON'T LIKE THAT YET

Preferences are information.

MAY I TAKE A BREAK?

Movement can reset the body.

THANK YOU

Close the interaction kindly.

WAITING PLAN

Choose a quiet thing to do.

Adult tip: Restaurants combine waiting, noise, smells, choices, unfamiliar food, and sitting still. Reducing choices, allowing movement breaks, and permitting small food adjustments can make the experience more manageable.

Restaurant Practice Certificate

This certificate is awarded to

for practicing choices, waiting, tasting, asking, and taking a helpful break.

- ☐ I made a choice. ☐ I practiced waiting.
☐ I asked for what I needed.
☐ I tried a food or noticed my preference.

Grown-up

Date

Color Yok at a restaurant table choosing noodles and asking for the herbs on the side.
