Read-Aloud Guide

Best for: Ages 3–6

Read-aloud: 5–8 min.

Theme: losing a treasured object, big worry, retracing steps, asking for help, and searching one place at a time.

Approach: Let the story lead. Pause for body clues, choices, and small moments of agency rather than turning the reading into a lesson.

Before reading

- Why can a small object feel very important?
- What can happen in your body when something special is missing?
- What does it mean to think backward when searching?

During reading

- When Yok runs in three directions at once: How does worry make searching harder?
- When Abby says Let us think backward: What new plan do the friends make?
- When nobody promises they will definitely find Rabbit: Why is We will keep looking a more honest promise?
- When Yok finds the pink thread: How does one small clue help the search?

After reading

1. Stop and take one breath.
2. Ask: Where am I now?
3. Think: Where was I before?
4. Ask someone to help and search one place at a time.

Parent Conversation Card

Ask gently

1. Why was Rabbit so important to Yok?
2. How did thinking backward make the search more manageable?
3. Why did Tom promise to keep looking instead of promising Rabbit would be found?
4. Why was Yok still shaky after Rabbit was safe?

Grown-up note: A comfort object can carry a lot of emotional meaning. Avoid minimizing the attachment. Help the child retrace steps, ask others, and search one place at a time.

Tiny everyday habit: Choose one phrase or strategy from the story and practice it once during a calm moment this week. It is easier to use a skill under stress after it has been rehearsed when things are going well.

Practice Cards

Cut out the cards. Children may say, point, act, or match the phrase.

STOP

Pause before running everywhere.

THINK BACKWARD

Remember the last place first.

ONE PLACE AT A TIME

Make the search smaller.

ASK FOR HELP

Searching can be teamwork.

LOOK FOR CLUES

Small details matter.

WE'LL KEEP LOOKING

Promise the effort, not the outcome.

I'M WORRIED

Name the feeling.

FOUND IT!

Let the body settle too.

SPECIAL HOME SPOT

Give treasured things a place.

Adult tip: A comfort object can carry a lot of emotional meaning. Avoid minimizing the attachment. Help the child retrace steps, ask others, and search one place at a time.
