Read-Aloud Guide

Best for: Ages 3–6

Read-aloud: 5–8 min.

Theme: sensory overload, body clues, asking for quiet, self-advocacy, and rejoining when ready.

Approach: Let the story lead. Pause for body clues, choices, and small moments of agency rather than turning the reading into a lesson.

Before reading

- Are all sounds easy to handle every day?
- What does your body do when a sound feels too big?
- What could you say if you need a quieter place?

During reading

- When sounds start piling on top of one another: What body clues show that Yok is getting overwhelmed?
- When Yok shouts Stop!: Why might words come out loudly when the room already feels too loud?
- When the teacher asks whether the room is too noisy: How does that question help Yok find words?
- When Yok returns with ear protectors: What changed even though the room did not become silent?

After reading

1. Point to your ears and notice how they feel.
2. Say: That is too loud for me.
3. Ask: I need quiet, please.
4. Choose whether you are ready to rejoin or need more time.

Parent Conversation Card

Ask gently

1. Which clues showed that Yok was overloaded?
2. Why did moving to a quieter corner help?
3. How did the ear protectors support Yok without making the room silent?
4. What words did Yok learn to use for herself?

Grown-up note: Noise tolerance can change from day to day. Covering ears, irritability, freezing, or sudden shouting may be signs that the child needs less sensory input, not more correction.

Tiny everyday habit: Choose one phrase or strategy from the story and practice it once during a calm moment this week. It is easier to use a skill under stress after it has been rehearsed when things are going well.

Practice Cards

Cut out the cards. Children may say, point, act, or match the phrase.

TOO LOUD

Name the problem.

I NEED QUIET

Ask clearly.

QUIET CORNER

Take a short reset.

SLOW BREATH

Help the body settle.

EAR PROTECTORS

Use support when helpful.

SOFT, PLEASE

Ask for a smaller sound.

I'M NOT READY YET

More time is allowed.

I'M READY

Rejoin when your body says yes.

TING

One clear sound can be enough.

Adult tip: Noise tolerance can change from day to day. Covering ears, irritability, freezing, or sudden shouting may be signs that the child needs less sensory input, not more correction.

Quiet Voice Advocate Certificate

This certificate is awarded to for noticing when sound was too much and using a helpful way to ask for quiet.

- ☐ I noticed a body clue. ☐ I asked for quiet.
- ☐ I tried a calming strategy.
- ☐ I returned when I was ready.

Grown-up

Date

Color Yok taking a quiet break with ear protectors while Tibo waits nearby with the drum.

Needing quiet is information, not bad behavior.

Four Printable Bookmarks

Cut along the lines. Optional: print on cardstock.
